

General Biology Laboratory Instructor

(Full-time; West Point campus)

Point University is a private liberal arts institution that educates students within a Christian worldview so they are equipped to take their faith into the marketplace and all of life while achieving their professional goals. We are training the next generation of Christian leaders to take the cross to more job sites, churches, industries, and nations than ever before.

POSITION DESCRIPTION

Due to enrollment growth, Point University is seeking a full-time instructor to teach 7 general biology laboratory courses per semester at the West Point campus. Courses are typically scheduled on Mondays and Wednesdays. The ideal candidate would also be able to teach a science-related elective course occasionally (e.g. Botany and lab or Ecology and lab).

Teach lab courses in biological sciences; assess and evaluate student learning outcomes; participate in faculty governance, academically advise and support students, collect, grade and report assignments and homework; and perform other functions appropriate for a full-time faculty position, or as assigned by the department chair or chief academic officer.

REQUIREMENTS:

- Master's degree with 18 graduate semester hours in biological sciences
- Effective teaching ability/excellent communication skills
- Basic computer literacy
- Prior laboratory teaching experience needed
- Willingness to be a professional role model and mentor
- Commitment to undergraduate education, professional growth, service and scholarship in a distinctively Christian setting, including agreement with the University's mission and goals, values, and doctrinal statement

TO APPLY:

1. In the position section, put "WPT" and "General Biology Laboratory Instructor".
2. Please include three professional references with contact information.
3. Send copies of transcripts to jobs@point.edu (unofficial will be accepted for application purposes with official required for hiring).
