

Instructor of Piano and Music Theory (full-time position)

Point University is a Christian institution that educates our students within a Christian worldview so they are equipped to take their faith into the marketplace and all of life while achieving their professional goals. We are training the next generation of Christian leaders to take the cross to more job sites, churches, industries, and nations than ever before.

The Instructor of Piano and Music Theory is responsible teaching all courses related to piano, including applied piano, class piano, and other piano electives. The applicant will also serve as the primary instructor for music theory, teaching theory and ear training courses as needed.

Essential Duties

- Teaching all courses related to piano, including applied piano, class piano, and other piano electives.
- Primary instructor for music theory, teaching theory and ear training courses as needed.
- Regular student advising and mentoring.

Required Qualifications

- Master's Degree in Piano Performance or a related area (with piano as the major applied instrument area)
- Successful teaching experience at the high school or college level

Preferred Qualifications

- Doctoral Degree in Piano Performance or a related area (with piano as the major applied instrument area)
- Successful teaching and accompanying experience at the college level in piano and music theory
- Background in church music leadership

Please complete the online application.

1. In the position section, enter Instructor Piano/Theory
2. Please include three professional references with contact information
3. Send copies of transcripts to jobs@point.edu (unofficial will be accepted for the application process with official required for hiring)