

Assistant Professor of History, College of Arts & Sciences – West Point, GA

Point University is a private liberal arts institution that educates our students within a Christian worldview, so they are equipped to take their faith into the marketplace and all of life while achieving their professional goals. We are training the next generation of Christian leaders to take the cross to more job sites, churches, industries, and nations than ever before.

Point University is seeking a full-time instructor of history in the College of Arts & Sciences for its residential program on the West Point, GA campus. Knowledge of the events and people that have shaped history creates an important framework for understanding the present and influencing the future; learning about history is valuable for any major. Primary teaching responsibilities will include:

- HIS 250: United States History I
- HIS 251: United States History II
- HIS 103: US Government
- HIS 104: World History I
- HIS 105: World History II
- HIS 225: History of Philosophy
- HIS 430: Historiography with Georgia History

Candidate will teach most of their course load in the residential setting on the West Point campus but will also be expected to teach courses in our online degree programs.

REQUIREMENTS:

- Graduate degree in history (Ph.D. preferred)
- Teaching experience preferred
- Experience in online course development/course redesign preferred
- Effective communication skills
- Willingness to be a role model and mentor to students online and residential
- Commitment to undergraduate education, professional growth, service, and scholarship in a distinctively Christian setting, including agreement with the University's mission and goals, values, and doctrinal statement.
