

FAQS

> Can I receive university credit for my internship?

Credit is given at the discretion of each respective college or university. Be sure to speak with a coordinator at your school before beginning the internship to arrange proper credit.

> Can I fundraise to help cover the cost?

Absolutely! We will give you an individualized platform to receive tax-deductable donations through our organization.

> Will I need a passport or Visa?

Yes, you will need both. Start applying for your passport ASAP. We will help you with your Visa, which you will get at the airport in Bolivia once you land.

> Will I need to apply for permanency?

Yes, once you get into the country, our team will help you through this process step by step.

> Will I have access to WIFI?

Yes, our campus is fully wired.

> Do I need to know Spanish?

While you need to hit a certain Spanish level before going, we will give you the tools to help you get there!

INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

SETTING A NEW STANDARD IN ORPHAN CARE

WHO WILL I BE SERVING?

Refugio de Esperanza is home to about 45 children, ages 5 to 23 years old. Each child comes with their own specific stories, needs, and love to give.

WHERE WILL I LIVE?

You will be living in a brand new internship dormitory alongside other interns. The dorm is on campus but is a separate space for the interns to relax.
